Position Summary

The Fresh Air Fund has a history of providing leadership training and career awareness for teens throughout its many summer and year-round programs. In 2020, The Fund designed our Summer Teen Academy as a stipend-based model, through which teens ages 13-17 will be offered specialized programs with opportunities to earn credentials, gain valuable job/career readiness skills, and participate in internships thereby obtaining real world, work experience. The credentialing programs are being offered in partnership with universities and nonprofits. The program will employ mentors who guide and participate alongside teen participants during their participation and support faculty and staff of partner organizations.

The Fresh Air Fund is seeking organized, creative, and supportive individuals who guide and participate alongside teens during their time involved with the Summer Teen Academy. Counselors assist program instructors and staff in the implementation of their respective programs and are responsible for ensuring all FAF protocols and procedures are followed. The position reports directly to the assigned Assistant Manager.

We are seeking Counselors for the following programs:

The Entrepreneurship program focuses on financial literacy, financial wellness, and basic business concepts. IN partnership with Youthful Savings, FAF participants work to create a business and ear a stipend and certificate.

The Video Game Design program is a partnership with Urban Arts/SIA that focuses on introducing computer science through video game design. Participants are exposed to computer programming (coding) and further explore education and career opportunities in the field.

The Job Readiness Training program is modeled after The Fund's long-standing Career Awareness Program, as well as the Leaders-In-Training and Counselor-In-Training programs. The JRT program provides participants with opportunities to explore vast career opportunities, gain skills necessary to successfully enter the work-world, and focuses on the social-emotional skills necessary for successful secondary school participation and beyond.
